Quiz

This lesson covers multiple choice questions related to traversing Document Object Model.

---

1 What does `querySelectorAll()` function returns?

A) List of Elements

B) Count

C) Class

D) Identifier

E) None of above

---

2 What does the `querySelector()` function returns when there is no associated element found?

A) Zero

B) N 11

B) Null

○ C) None of above

3 The difference between `querySelectorAll()` and `querySelector()` is that `querySelector` returns the last element, where as `querySelectorAll()` returns all the elements associated to the class or identifier. Is this statement True or False?

○ A) True

○ B) False

4 The attributes of the following are directly accessible as properties except:

○ A) `id`

○ B) `class`

○ C) `href`

○ D) `value`

5

Given this HTML code:

```html
<h1>Favourite seasons</h1>
Here's the list of my favorite seasons on Netflix

    <ul class="seasons" id="favseasons">
        <li class="netflix">Peaky Blinders</li>
        <li>House of Cards</li>
        <li>Narcos</li>
        <li>Dexter</li>
    </ul>
```

Can you guess what will be the output of this JavaScript this statement `console.log(classes[1]);` on the code written above?

A) netflix

B) undefined

C) None of above

6

When is it convenient to use the `innerHTML()` function?

A) When we want to access a specific element

B) When we want to access the HTML of an element

C) When we want to modfiy the HTML of an element

○ D) Both B and C

CHECK ANSWERS